1. Anger: Anger is a negative emotion that is often associated with aggression. It is a primary emotion that is universal and innate. Anger is a complex emotion that is influenced by many factors, including biology, psychology, and society. Anger is a powerful emotion that can drive people to act in ways that are destructive and harmful. Anger is a natural emotion that is not inherently bad. It is a signal that something is wrong and that action is needed. Anger is a complex emotion that is influenced by many factors, including biology, psychology, and society.
